CONDITIONS OF SALE.

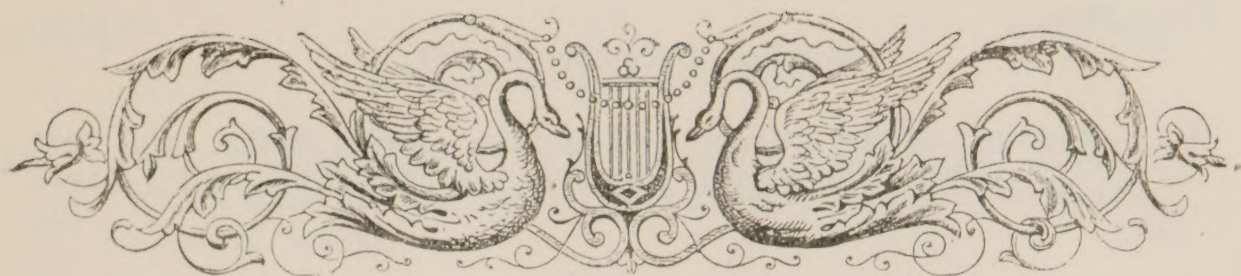

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer. If any dispute arises the Auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it; and to put any disputed lot up again.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are put up for sale subject (a) to any reserve price imposed by the Seller and (b) to the right of the Seller either to bid personally or else by any one person who may be the Auctioneer.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and, if required, to pay down 10s. in the pound in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEBY & CO. will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If at the expiration of one week after the conclusion of the sale, the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. SOTHEBY & CO. will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if, upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, provided they are received back within Fourteen Days after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm holes, stained, or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates or blank leaves, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings, is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No imperfect book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Messrs. SOTHEBY & CO. are prepared to advise intending purchasers, as far as possible, and will execute bids on their behalf, free of charge. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

From a Royal Library on the Continent.

THE GAME AND HUNTING RECORDS OF THE KINGS AND ROYAL PRINCES OF FRANCE.

LIVRETS DES CHASSES DU ROI ET DU DUC DE BERRI.

[These Royal French Hunting Books (Lots 226 to 230) will be offered in one lot ; should the reserve price not be realized, each of the lots will immediately be sold separately as catalogued.]

THE "LIVRETS DES CHASSES" were printed exclusively for the use of the King of France, the Royal Princes and the Royal Household, and in any state are of excessive rarity. For the personal use only of the King and the Royal Princes, copies on papier vélin were specially bound in red morocco and adorned with the Royal Arms of France. Consequently of the year 1819 only four copies were so made, for King Louis XVIII, his brother Charles and his two nephews, the Duc d'Angoulême and the Duc de Berri.

For 1824 only three copies were so made (as the Duc de Berri had died in 1820). For the years 1825 to 1828, two copies only were so bound, namely for Charles X and his surviving son, the Duc d'Angoulême.

The printed "Livrets des Chasses" (Lot 226) contain full accounts of the game killed by the Royal Sportsmen, with a full description of each hunt and details of the shoots. Also the full details of the expenses, administration of the Royal Hunts, down to the cost of each button on the hunt liveries.

The Manuscript Volumes (Lots 227 to 230) are devoted to the sporting records of game killed or shot.

THE AUTOGRAPH LETTERS.

- 397 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. S. TO EDWIN HERON DODGSON (his youngest brother) giving a very detailed account of a visit to Coe's "Living Miniatures" at the Haymarket, including a most interesting description of the rehearsal he attended and of the child-players who took part in it.

I have also presented him [Mr. Coe], as an appropriate return for his entertainment, with a copy of my juvenile entertainment, Alice. I have vague hopes (though I haven't suggested the idea to him) that it may occur to him to turn it into a pantomime. I fancy it would work well in that form.

16 pp. 8vo., Ch. Ch. March 11, 1867; A VERY FINE LETTER

- 398 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. S. to Magdalen Millard, giving an amusing account of an encounter and conversation between his two selves

. . . two very dear friends of mine who happen to be here just now, and beg to be allowed to sign this letter, as your affectionate friends, Lewis Carroll and C. L. Dodgson.

3¼ pp. 8vo. Ch. Ch., Oxford, Dec. 15, 1875

 Printed in Collingwood's "Life and Letters of Lewis Carroll"; and in "A Selection from the letters to his Child-Friends"

Tuesday, December 10, 1935.

- 399 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. to Lucy Wilcox, telling her to hold his letters up to the looking glass to discover their inner meaning; mentioning a walk to Magdalen Bridge in the moonlight, and suggesting three subjects for ambitious essays, 4 pp. 8vo. Ch. Ch. Nov. 24/77 (Printed in part in "A Selection of Letters to his Child-Friends")
- 400 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. to Tom Taylor, referring to some of his child actress friends, one of whom is going to appear in "Oliver Twist," 3 pp. 8vo. Ch. Ch. Oxford, June 27/78
- 401 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. to Mrs. Heurtley,
 . . . May I ask you kindly not to give away any specimen of my handwriting . . . my constant aim is to remain personally unknown to the world . . . my features and handwriting belong to me as a private individual.
(ink slightly faded) 2 pp. 8vo. Ch. Ch. May 11/83, with envelope
- 402 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. to Isabel Standen, about finding a place for her friend as a French Governess, and rebuking her in an amusing way for being unbusinesslike, 3 pp. 12mo. Ch. Ch. July 5/85
- 403 DODGSON (C. L.) A collection of 9 A. L. s. and 2 Auto. Post Cards to May Mileham and her parents, comprising 4 Letters and 2 Post Cards, the cards in mirror writing, to May (signatures cut from 2 letters, one letter and the cards signed initials), about 17 pp. sm. 8vo; 4 A. L. s. to Mrs. Mileham, 12 pp, sm. 8vo; A. L. s. to Mr. Mileham, 1½ pp. sm. 8vo, in all about 30 pp., dated from Eastbourne and Oxford, Aug. 1884-Sept. 1885
-  The letters to May Mileham are charming examples of Dodgson's letters to his child friends, being full of humour and delicate fantasy. The letters to Mrs. Mileham contain many references to the ever recurring problem of Mrs. Grundy
- 404 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. (initials) to Lucy Wilcox, containing full arrangements for a day she is to spend with him:
 What will Mrs. Grundy say! For a single lady to propose to come and spend several hours tête-à-tête with a single gentleman and even to have a cup of tea with him . . . As some folks are said to live on the smiles of Fortune, so may I be said to live on the frowns of Mrs. Grundy.
 4 pp. 8vo. Ch. Ch. Oxford, Feb. 7/86, A FINE LETTER

Tuesday, December 10, 1935.

- 405 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. to Mrs. Severn asking if John Ruskin had received the copy of "Sylvie and Bruno" which had been sent him :

I should like him to be reminded that he expressed a hope, years ago, my next book would not be a mere unconnected dream, but would contain a plot; and to be told that I have tried to do this in "Sylvie & Bruno."

3 pp. 8vo. The Chestnuts, Guildford, Jan. 8/90

- 406 DODGSON (C. L.) A Collection of 8 A. L. s. and one autograph Post Card (unsigned) to Maud Standen [Mrs. E. Archdall Ffooks] and one A. L. s. to her mother, about 35 pp. 8vo., &c., and 1 envelope. One letter to Maud (Aug. 28 1890) gives an account of his work

Last Christmas I brought out "Sylvie and Bruno" . . . and what I'm now at work at is "Sylvie and Bruno Concluded." The book has been on hand for about 7 years, until I had accumulated a chaotic mass of fragments (I can't write a story straight on!) . . . Original writing is very slow work with me, I don't think I've done more than 60 pages in the 8 weeks. I write a bit in one part of the book, then a bit in another part, & so on, all consecutively, send it off to the printer, to be set up in slip, and re-arranged hereafter . . .

Another letter describes a Children's Fancy Dress Ball at Hatfield House. Dated from Oxford, Guildford and Eastbourne, Dec. 1871-Aug. 1890

 Four of the above letters (1 Sep. 1873; 30 Dec. 1874; 14 April 1884, and 28 Aug. 1890) are printed in "Six Letters by Lewis Carroll," edited by W. Partington, (limited to 26 copies) 1924, a copy of which, with a few recent letters from Mrs. Ffooks, is included in the lot.

- 407 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. to Coventry Patmore, repaying a loan of half-a-crown, and asking him to take a party to the Theatre to see his "Child friend Irene Barnes" [Irene Vanbrugh] whom he praises highly, 3½ pp. 12mo. Eastbourne Aug. 9/91

- 408 Dodgson (C. L.)—Life and Letters, by S. D. Collingwood, FIRST EDITION, with A. L. s. from the author to Mrs. Cardew (née Alexandra Kitchin) presenting the book, and 3 PHOTOGRAPHS BY C. L. DODGSON of Alexandra Kitchin (2 of which are reproduced on pp. 368 and 396) each with a title in the handwriting of C. L. Dodgson, loosely inserted, original cloth 8vo. 1898

Tuesday, December 10, 1935.

- 409 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. to Mrs. Henderson whose daughter he wished to photograph :

. . . I am very glad, when mothers permit, to take them in any amount of undress which is presentable, or even in none (which is more presentable than many forms of undress) but I don't think your Annie is at all a child of that sort. If you ever meet with any such 'children of Nature' I shall be glad to hear of them.

3 pp. 12mo. Ch. Ch. "Saturday"

- 410 DODGSON (C. L.) Autograph Manuscript : Anagrams on W. E. Gladstone, Disraeli, Edward Vaughan Kenealy, and Florence Nightingale, unsigned, on 1 sheet sm. 8vo., written for Maud Standen, and printed in the "Handbook" by Williams and Madan, p. 218 (1)

- 411 Dodgson (C. L.) Small photograph of himself (reproduced in the "Life and Letters" on p. 176) given to Maud Standen, autograph inscription : "for Maud from Lewis Carroll"; Photographs by C. L. Dodgson of Isabel Standen, with same inscription, and of Helen Standen, coloured, and 2 others (5)

Tuesday, December 10, 1935.

 A delightful series of letters remarkable for their spontaneity and intimacy. From August 1895 to Jan. 1900 (Ruskin died on 20th Jan. 1900) they constitute an almost daily record of her life and work. She has much to say of her child models, frequently recounting their amusing conversation. She writes also of her visits to Art Exhibitions in one of which she saw Tenniel's Drawings for "Alice in Wonderland"; she comments, often at length, on the books she is reading—Jane Austen, Charlotte Brontë, Balzac, Dickens, Thackeray, Borrow, Du Maurier, R. L. Stevenson, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Rossetti, Swinburne, Henry James, Barrie, Kipling, &c.; she gives most entertaining descriptions of the Bank Holiday Crowds on Hampstead Heath, the Guy Fawkes Processions, the streets and shops at Christmas time, Pantomimes at Drury Lane, &c., of holidays in Yorkshire, in the Isle of Wight, at Cromer, Bournemouth, and elsewhere, displaying always a joyous delight in the changing seasons, in the countryside and the seashore, in old villages, gardens and orchards, and especially in children.

The letters, 2 of which are incomplete, are arranged chronologically. They are mostly signed "Katie." A small water-colour drawing of wild roses is enclosed in the letter of 14 Aug. 1894. Many extracts, and reproductions of some of the drawings, are printed in Spielmann & Layard's Kate Greenaway, 1905.

- 510 PAINTER (WILLIAM) THE PALACE OF PLEASURE beautified, adorned and well furnished, with Pleasant Histories and Excellent Nouelles, selected out of diuers good and commendable Authors, FIRST EDITION, black letter, unbound

(7½ in. by 5½ in.) London, H. Denham for R. Tottell and W. Jones, 1566

 An imperfect copy, collating as follows: Q2-3; T-Z⁴; Aa-Nn⁴; O-1 [No break in text]; Aaa⁴-Zz⁴; Aaaa⁴-Bbbb⁴; Cccc 2-4; Dddd 1-4; one unsigned leaf foliated 312.

The W. A. White catalogue gives the collation as *⁴, ¶⁴, ¶¶⁴, ¶¶¶², A-Nn⁴, Oo¹, Aaa-Mmmm⁴,)(2. So that this copy wants 14 leaves of preliminaries, the first 61 leaves of text, the last 33 leaves and 2 other leaves.

Pen-scribblings in the margin of several leaves; the side margin of several leaves cut away; some leaves somewhat stained or soiled. Sold not subject to return.

EXTREMELY RARE. Only two perfect copies of this book are recorded in the S.T.C. (B.M. and Huntington); the Britwell copy was sold in these rooms in 1920 and again in the Clausen sale in 1926. Another perfect copy was sold in these rooms 29 June 1927, lot 640.

Miss Bartlett writes: "This is one of the most important books of the period, as it is the first translation into English of the stories found in Boccaccio, Bandello and other Italian novelists. All the Elizabethan writers drew from Painter and the few copies of the first edition which survive show that the book was literally read to pieces." Mr. William Shakespeare, 1922, p. 99. Novelle 38 which Shakespeare used for the foundation story of "Alls well" survives intact in this copy.

A FINE PARISIAN ROMANESQUE BINDING.

- 567 [FLAIX (RAOUL DE)?] DE MYSTICA EXPOSITIONE SACRIFICIORUM. MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM BEAUTIFULLY WRITTEN IN A FINE GOTHIC MINUSCULE. Double columns, 37 lines to a page, 123 leaves. Three illuminated initials in burnished gold outlined in red painted on pale green (or green and blue) grounds. One leaf (folio 48) written in another hand contains proemia by Michael Meldensis (Michel de Meaux). THE MANUSCRIPT IS IN VERY FINE CONDITION THROUGHOUT (242 by 175 mm.; 9½ in. by 6⅞ in.) XII CENTURY

 BINDING : Contemporary brown tooled leather over wooden boards, title written on a piece of vellum fastened to the lower cover, two clasps (missing). The binding is a remarkable example of the Parisian romanesque bindings of the XII and early XIIIth centuries. Though the tools used are similar to those found on other bindings of this character, they are themselves unique, no other binding from this workshop being known. Though about ninety of these bindings have now been traced very few are in private hands, and we believe that only two have been sold by auction within living memory, namely, a much damaged binding which was lot 451 in the George Dunn sale, and is now in the British Museum, and a fine Winchester binding which was in the Yates Thompson collection.

Thirteen tools are used on the binding, eight on the upper cover, two tools of birds passant, a stag, St. Peter, three formal or floral ornaments, and a small rosette, six on the lower cover, another bird passant, another stag, the ox of St. Luke, a two-headed grotesque (once placed upside down) another formal tool, and the same small rosette. The binding has suffered some damage, but on the whole, considering its great age and compared with other romanesque bindings, it is in good condition, there being fine and clear impressions of all the tools.

EGYPTOMA JOAÑIS DE MÔTE REGIO IN ALMAGESTÛ PTOLMEI, *woodcut title, gothic letter, 48 lines, 107 leaves, FINE FULL-PAGE WOODCUT containing figures of Ptolemy and Regiomontanus; large woodcut initials (white on black), numerous marginal diagrams, bound in a vellum leaf from a manuscript [Hain 13806; B.M. Cat. vol. V, p. 427]
Venice, Jo. Hamman, 31 Aug. 1496

 FIRST EDITION. This abridgement of Ptolemy's astronomical treatise called The Almagest, was begun by Purbach and finished by Regiomontanus. The greater part of the first book is a treatise on spherical trigonometry. The word sine (sinus) appears frequently in Props. 18 and 19—probably the first occurrence of this word in print. This copy, like the copy quoted by Hain, wants the letter of Abiosus printed on a separate sheet of 2 leaves, which should be inserted between sig. a1 and a2.

 THE EARLIEST ACCOUNT OF ABYSSINIA, AND APPARENTLY UNDESCRIBED.

The search for the empire of Prester John ended in 1490, when Pedro de Covilham, arriving in Abyssinia, presented to the Negus a letter from the King of Portugal addressed to Prester John. "In 1507 an Armenian named Matthew was sent by the negūs to the King of Portugal [Manoel I] to request his aid against the Mahommedans. In 1520 a Portuguese fleet, with Matthew on board, entered the Red Sea in compliance with this request, and an embassy from the fleet visited the negūs, Lebna Dengel Dawit (David) II, and remained in Abyssinia for about six years. One of this embassy was Father Francisco Alvarez, from whom we have the earliest and not the least interesting account of the country."—Encyclopædia Britannica, I, 90. This tract, which seems to be hitherto unknown, precedes the first edition of the account of Alvarez by nineteen years and appears to be based on letters sent to Manoel I by Diogo Lopez de Sequeira and Pero Gomez Teixeira. A translation of the letter brought by Matheus from the Negus is printed on B6.

The initial P on the verso of the title and the borders flanking the title are reproduced in King Manuel's "Early Portuguese Books," vol. III, pp. 492 and 508. The former had previously been used by Valentim Fernandes.

folio (19 $\frac{3}{4}$ in. by 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.) No printer's name or date

-  The volume contains 199 leaves consecutively numbered 1-199 (leaves 23 and 24 which are lacking, excepted. As there is no indication of anything having been removed, these leaves must have been missing at the time of rebinding).
The maps are of varying sizes, the smaller ones inlaid to the size of the volume. The earliest date on any map is 1542, the latest being 1566, whilst many are undated; as all copies of the book vary, this will be sold not subject to return.

Lafreri's Atlas is of the greatest rarity and is undoubtedly one of the corner stones of cartography. It consists of maps, the work of the foremost Italian cartographers of Venice,
Rome, etc., gathered together to form an atlas by Antonio Lafreri, from whom it derives its name. It represents the transition between the classical conceptions of Ptolemy, which for many centuries had dominated geographical ideas, and the more modern era ushered in by the publication in 1570 of the famous Atlas of Ortelius. From about the year 1515, engendered by the then new discoveries of the great explorers, there arose a desire for more exact geographical knowledge, and maps commenced to be drawn founded upon actual surveys and astronomical observations. Thus in Italy map engraving first became a fine art, and the crude wooden blocks of the 15th century gave way to finest copperplate engraving.

About 1540 Antoine Lafrère, a Burgundian, arrived in Rome, and being quick to realise the trend of events, set up as a map publisher, changing his name to Lafreri. In addition to the maps he himself published, he acquired those of other publishers, not only of Rome but of other Italian cities. From these he assembled atlases for his clients to suit their varying tastes. In the Biblioteca Marucelliana at Florence is a printed Index of the prints for sale by Antonio Lafreri at his shop in 1572, in the Preface to which Lafreri distinctly says that the patron might have all or any at his fancy. This undoubtedly accounts for the fact that all known copies of his atlases vary, not only in the number, but in the make up of their contents. Apparently, however, it was not his custom to add printed titles to these collections, and all known copies in which all the maps are dated prior to 1570, are without titles. About 1570 Lafreri issued a title page (as quoted above) for use with his atlases, doubtless in order to compete with the famous "Theatrum Orbis Terrarum" of Ortelius which was published in that year.

The present copy appears to be one of the earliest compiled by Lafreri. In almost every case the maps it contains are of an earlier issue than similar maps to be found in the copies with which it has been compared, viz., Nordenskiöld, Collegio Romano, Library of Congress, Royal Geographical Society and British Museum. Furthermore it contains 32 maps that do not appear in any of them and there are also many which are only to be found in one or other of those copies. The earliest date recorded in Nordenskiöld's "Facsimile Atlas, 1889," in which the maps in the Collegio Romano and Nordenskiöld copies of Lafreri's Atlas are listed, is 1545, but in this copy there are two maps antedating this, viz., Plan of "Buda" on fos. 162/3, and Plan of "Nizza" on fos. 166/7, which bear the dates of 1542 and 1543 respectively. Of the 142 maps listed in Nordenskiöld, 20 bear dates earlier than 1560 (2 before 1550), whereas in this copy 28 maps out of 107 are prior to 1560 (3 being before 1550).

This copy contains no less than 6 World maps as against four in the copies with which it has been compared. They are:—

- (1) Map in two hemispheres in gores by Antonius Floreanus Utin, without title.
- (2) Map in two hemispheres on 2 separate sheets, published by Michaelis Tramezini, 1554. (See reproduction of Western Hemisphere.)
- (3) Universali descrizione di tvtta la terra conosciuta, by Paulo Forlani, 1565.

Lot 593 continued.

(4) Map of the World on Mercator's projection, by Jacopo Gastaldi, 1560.

(5) Double cordiform map of the World, by Ant. Lafreri.

(6) Small map entitled "Ptolemaei typus."

Of these, Nos. (2) and (4) are apparently unrecorded. It is also rich in maps relating to America, for in addition to the first five World maps quoted above, it also contains the following :—

(1) Il disegno del discoperto della Noua Franza. (Map showing the discovery of Canada.)

(2) La descrittione di tutto il Peru, by Paulo di Forlani.

(3) L'Isola Spagnola (St. Domingo), by Paulo Forlani, 1564.

(4) L'Isola Cuba.

(5) [Chart of the Atlantic Ocean from the West Coast of Africa to Brazil and Canada.] By Ferando Berteli.

Between folios 143 and 144 is an unnumbered sheet of probably contemporary blue paper, following which are 28 maps consisting of Plans of Cities and Battle Plans, amongst which might be mentioned Boulogne, Calais, Antwerp, Buda (the earliest map in the book), Genoa, Venice (with numbered references in 10 columns beneath), Rome, 6 of the Island of Malta, Tunis, Tripoli, etc.

All the maps in this volume are contributions from the most prominent Italian cartographers, engravers and publishers of the 16th century. Many are the work of Jacobo Gastaldi (or Giacopo di Castaldi) who was at that time the foremost cartographer not only of Italy but probably of the whole world, and the engraving is the work of such famous men as Forlani, Bertelli, Sebastianus, Bossius and Fabius Licinius. In addition to that of the engraver, many of the maps bear the names of well known publishers including Lafreri, Tramezini, Forlani, Vincenti Luchini, etc., with place and date of publication.

Another Property.

- 618 Telescope: Gregorian Reflector, mounted as an altimuth, horizontal and vertical circles attached to the body, both graduated and with verniers. Aperture 5 in. diameter, length 2 ft. 10½ in., two eyepieces, both fitted with sun glasses. Refractor finder. Mounted on brass tripod, the whole fitting into an oak travelling case, with additional folding tripod of wood and iron

 Made by Heath and Wing and traditionally believed to have belonged to Captain Cook. It is said to have been given by either Sir Joseph Banks or Admiral Burney to John Rickman, F.R.S., who gave it to Jonathan Johnson, whose widow gave it to the Revd. E. W. Relton. Afterwards the property of the late H. Relton, of Clevedon, Somerset, in whose sale it was purchased by the late owner.

Included in the lot are several letters, etc., referring to the Captain Cook tradition of ownership.

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 619 THE "NEW YORK EVENING POST": THE ORIGINAL EDITORIAL CHAIR, railed back and arms, unusually wide seat, turned legs with castors, with broad semi-circular writing board swinging out from the right arm

 Inlaid plaque on back with the following inscription: "This Chair, the original Editorial Chair of The Evening Post was successively occupied during more than half a Century by WILLIAM COLEMAN, WILLIAM LEGGETT, and WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT." A letter from a descendant of Isaac Austen Henderson, publisher of the "Evening Post," referring to Henderson's ownership of the chair, and a photograph accompany the lot.

The Property of the late Rev. Stopford A. Brooke.

- 620 BLAKE (WILLIAM) WATER-COLOUR DRAWING: "A BREACH IN A CITY—the Morning after a Battle" (11 $\frac{3}{4}$ in. by 18 $\frac{1}{2}$ in.) framed and glazed

 No. 5 in W. M. Rossetti's list (Gilchrist: Life of Blake, 1880 vol. 2, p. 207) where it is described as follows:—

The colour slight . . . with the darkness of earliest dawn. Women lie mourning over the heaped dead: a widow bemoaning her knight, and a woman and aged man proceeding upon their search, are the chief figures, the subject being prolonged far into the background. An eagle has settled to the left, watching for the departure of the mourners, impatient till his banquet begins [1784] . . . Mr. Alfred Aspland possesses another version of the same subject, with a date which may perhaps be 1780.

The water-colour of the same subject in the collection of Mr. W. Graham Robertson is reproduced in his edition of Gilchrist's Life at p. 54 (see also p. 55).

- 621 BLAKE (W.) Water-colour drawing: Queen Katherine's Dream, signed W. B. (8 in. by 6 $\frac{3}{8}$ in.) framed and glazed

 Presumably an early sketch of this subject, containing besides the Queen and the six dancers only four other figures. The Queen lies with her head back and eyes closed. (Compare with drawings of the same subject in the Collection of Mrs. Morse and in the Fitzwilliam Museum, reproduced in Figgis, plate 88, and in Pictures in the Fitzwilliam Museum.)

The Property of Paul Carton Esq. M. D.

37, Fitzwilliam Square, Dublin.

- 622 BLAKE (WILLIAM) RELIEF ETCHING PAINTED WITH TEMPERA : URIZEN AND AHANIA (lettered "Tithonus and Aurora" which is no. 247 in Rossetti's list, with the note: "The title suggested may be correct," Gilchrist, 1880, vol. 2, p. 252)
(5 $\frac{3}{8}$ in. by 3 13/16 in.) framed and glazed

 The only other example of this print is in the Collection of Dr. Geoffrey Keynes and is reproduced in Mona Wilson's Life of Blake at p. 94 (see also p. 314); it is reproduced in Ellis and Yeats as the frontispiece to 'The Book of Ahania' and probably illustrates Ahania, 1. 7: "He groaned anguish'd and called her sin, Kissing her and weeping over her."

There is a pencil drawing of the same subject in the British Museum (Binyon, Engraved Designs, 339).

- 623 BLAKE (W.) PEN AND WASH DRAWING: The Parable of the Sower (9 $\frac{1}{4}$ in. by 15 $\frac{3}{8}$ in.), framed and glazed

 A drawing in Indian ink of the same subject (no. 100 in Rossetti's list, Gilchrist, 1880, vol. 2, p. 265) is in the British Museum. There is another in Miss Carthew's Collection with the figures in a different grouping, but with a blot of green ink as on this one (reproduced in Wright's Life of Blake, vol. 2, p. 64).

Rossetti states in a note that "According to another interpretation it represents "Christ as the Good Farmer," distributing His produce to the poor; and in a group in the background is a hard-hearted farmer whose goods are being destroyed by lightning. A. G. B. Russell in a letter to the late owner suggests it is an illustration of 1. Samuel 12, 16-18:

Is it not wheat harvest to-day? I will call unto the Lord and he shall send thunder and rain . . . So Samuel called unto the Lord; and the Lord sent thunder and rain that day. . .

From the Collection of Alexander Gilchrist, sold at Wellington Street, 24 th June, 1903, lot 29.

- 644 BURNS (Robert) A VERY FINE A. L. s. 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ pp. 4to. Mossgiel, Feb. 29th, 1778, to Mrs. Dunlop of Dunlop, Dunlop House:

I send you with this, Spencer, as I promised; and I already "re-joice with them that do rejoice" in anticipating the pleasure you will have in the fairy mazes of enchanted ground I return Belisarius to Miss Fanny with my grateful thanks for one of the most glorious mental entertainments I ever enjoyed. By the way, I suppose that hare-brain'd lady, Coira, is now about to move "in all the majesty of light."

I think Miss Kieth said she had never seen Gray's Poems: I send her a copy of them, which I beg she will do me the honor to accept of . . .
